

Mr. Michael McGrath, EU Commissioner for Justice and Consumers

Ms. Jessika Roswall, EU Commissioner for Environment, Water Resilience and a Competitive Circular Economy

The Governments of EU Member States

Brussels, April 2026

OPEN LETTER: TIME FOR EUROPEAN LEADERSHIP ON A GLOBAL AGREEMENT AGAINST ENVIRONMENTAL CRIMES

As 103 organizations working to prevent and combat environmental crimes across the European Union (EU) and beyond, we are writing to urge the EU to seize a historic opportunity to strengthen the international response to environmental crimes, including by supporting the development of an additional Protocol to the United Nations Convention against Transnational Organized Crime (UNTOC).

In late February 2026, the international community gathered in Vienna for the second meeting of the Intergovernmental Expert Group on Crimes that Affect the Environment under the UNTOC. This meeting represented a landmark moment, with approximately 100 States represented by national experts and diplomats to address some of the world's most pervasive and destructive forms of transnational organized crime. While the level of participation was unprecedented, the outcome was disappointing. Despite three days of intense deliberations, which had been prepared for over previous months, the meeting concluded with no outcome: none of the eight proposed recommendations for enhanced multilateral action were adopted.

While some organizations were in Vienna to monitor these developments, civil society was regrettably unable to formally participate in the expert-level negotiations. From the margins of the discussions, what emerged was that a well-coordinated minority of non-EU States managed to successfully frustrate progress. We are grateful for the clear and decisive contributions of some EU Member States in the discussions; however, the leadership of individual countries cannot substitute for the collective influence and power of an unequivocal, unified EU position. In the lead-up to the UNTOC Conference of the Parties, in October 2026, we hope that the EU will take a clearer and stronger position, reflecting its existing policies and priorities, and the collective weight it can bring to these discussions.

As many experts emphasized during the meeting, the technical arguments for an additional Protocol under the UNTOC are no longer just academic: they are operational necessities. The absence of common global definitions for environmental crimes such as wildlife trafficking, illegal deforestation, illegal mining, illegal fishing, and waste trafficking continues to create loopholes that organized criminal networks readily exploit. Without an international legal framework establishing minimum common standards and definitions, international cooperation is frequently constrained by the absence of dual criminality, hindering extradition and the provision of mutual legal assistance.

A global instrument would help address these challenges while reinforcing the ambition reflected in the EU's own legal framework, including the EU Environmental Crime Directive and the Council of Europe Convention on the Protection of the Environment through Criminal Law. The EU has already committed to strengthening the international legal framework in this area. The revised EU Action Plan against Wildlife Trafficking (2022–2027) identifies 'promoting the adoption of a protocol covering wildlife trafficking under the UNTOC' as a specific action. Extending such a protocol to cover a wider set of crimes that affect the environment would be consistent with the EU's existing legislation, policy commitments and strategic direction. Crucially, an additional Protocol presents a unique opportunity for the EU to ensure its ambitious standards are extended to other jurisdictions. By leading the shift toward a more level global playing field, the EU can ensure that European businesses are no longer undercut by competitors operating in regions where environmental crime is met with weaker legislation or more lenient enforcement.

With a draft resolution expected to be tabled at the UNTOC Conference of the Parties in October 2026 – seeking to start negotiations on an additional Protocol - the window for decisive action is narrowing. We therefore call on the European Commission and the governments of EU Member States to urgently work towards a strong, well-coordinated EU position and to engage proactively with international partners to initiate negotiations for an additional Protocol without delay. The natural world does not recognize international borders, and neither do transnational criminal groups, so our legal frameworks can no longer afford to be fragmented while organized crime remains so efficiently globalized.

We must move beyond fragmented responses to a unified global approach that ensures the safety of our communities, fairness for our businesses, and a healthy environment for generations to come.

The EU's leadership in calling for change, alongside partners from the Global South, will be vital to achieving progress.

On behalf of:

AAP Animal Advocacy and Protection

Aaranyak

Action4Justice

ADM Capital Foundation

African Conservation Trust

Albanian Fiscal and Economic Research Center

Amazon Watch

Ambiendura

ANI Foundation

Anti-Fraud Initiative Ghana (AFIG)

Asian Research Institute for Environmental Law

Asociación Rescate y Conservación de Vida Silvestre (ARCAS)

Association of Zoos and Aquariums' Wildlife Trafficking Alliance

Association Tunisienne de Taxonomie

AWTAD Anti-Corruption Organization

Big Cat Rescue

Blueprint for Free Speech

Born Free Foundation

Canadian Environmental Crime Research Network

CATCA Environmental and Wildlife Society (CEWS)

Centre for Development and Democratisation of Institutions

Cheetah Conservation Fund

Children and Young People Living for Peace (CYPLP), Nigeria

Club Ohada THIES

Conservation Justice

Conservatoire pour la Protection des Primates

Corporacion Viso Mutop

Criminologists Without Borders

DARIDIBÓ (Guinea Bissau)

Eagle Eye Transparency And Integrity Initiative (EETAI)

Earth League International (ELI)

Elephanatics Foundation Conservation Education Action

Environmental Crime and Corruption Working Group of the Global Civil Society Coalition for the UNCAC

Environmental Investigation Agency UK

Environmental Investigation Agency US

Eurogroup for Animals

European Environmental Bureau

The Fast Forward Foundation

Forests of the World

FOUR PAWS

FREELAND

Frontida Zois Initiative (FZI)

Fundación Internacional para la Restauración de Ecosistemas (FIRE)

Future for Elephants e.V.

GEOBON, University of Melbourne

Global Initiative against Transnational Organized Crime

Global Initiative to End Wildlife Crime

Global March for Elephants and Rhinos

Greenhood Nepal

Humane World for Animals

Igarapé Institute

Institute for Nature Conservation in Albania

Intelligent Whistleblower Coalition Bangladesh

International Council of Environmental Law

International Fund for Animal Welfare (IFAW)

International Ranger Federation

The International Wildlife Trust

IUCN SSC PSG Section on Small Apes

Jane Goodall Institute Argentina

Jane Goodall Institute Belgium

Jane Goodall Institute France

Jane Goodall Institute

Jane Goodall Institute Global

Jane Goodall Institute Italia

Jane Goodall Institute Spain

Just Access e.V.

Law of the Wild

Legal Atlas, LLC

Liberia Chimpanzee Rescue & Protection

THE LONG RUN

The Long Run

Michael O'Connell AM APM, Consulting Victimologist

NGO Shipbreaking Platform

Pan African Sanctuary Alliance

Panthera

Peace Parks Foundation

Peruvian Society for Environmental Law (SPDA)

Plateforme DPEG

Policy Alert

Pro Wildlife

Resource Justice Network (RJN) Nigeria

Robin des Bois

Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals

Sensitisation Against Hazard and Crime Initiative (TNCSAHACRIN)

The Siracusa International Institute for Criminal Justice and Human Rights

Soroptimist International

Species Survival Network

Species360

Spotlight on Corruption

SPOTS Foundation

Stakeholder Forum for a Sustainable Future

Sustainable Eel Group

Toronto Zoo

Tripla Difesa O.N.L.U.S

Uniting Church in Australia, Synod of Victoria and Tasmania

Wild at Life e.V.

Wild Tomorrow

WildAid

Wildlife Conservation Society EU Office

Wildlife Crime Research Hub, Adelaide University

Wildlife Justice Commission

Wildlife Protection Society of India (WPSI)

Women and Modern World Center - CWMW Azerbaijan

World Elephant Day & World Elephant Society

Zoologischer Garten Berlin AG